- Recommendations can come from your home institution and professional works in the area.
- Choose your recommenders carefully and contact them early. The letters of recommendation need to accompany the application as it could otherwise be weakened by an insufficient number of recommendations.
- Do not ask someone for a letter of recommendation unless the person is well acquainted with your qualifications. A pro forma letter from a well-known scholar, a contact abroad or a prominent government official will carry less weight than a realistic assessment of your abilities from someone who knows you and your work well.

- Recommendations must be written in or translated into English.
- The letters must be submitted through the online application system by the application deadline.
- Note that documents should not be mailed to the Fulbright Commission.
- Once you register your recommenders, they will receive an automatic email with instructions on completing the online recommendation form. You can track the status of recommendations, send reminders, and add/delete recommenders through this system before and after submission of your application.
