The Fulbright Commission in Brazil is pleased to announce you can now submit your application for the Fulbright Chairs in the U.S. These professorships target Brazilian faculty members and researchers who have an established record of teaching. They must also have the potential to make significant contributions to the body of research key to a wide range of disciplines, strengthening cooperation between Brazilians and the U.S. institutions through the Chairs as set forth below:

FULBRIGHT CHAIRS 2023-2024
Fulbright-Ruth Cardoso Chair at Georgetown University
Fulbright Chair in Interdisciplinary Studies: Agricultural Economics at Purdue University
Fulbright Chair in STEM at University of California, Davis
Fulbright Chair in Brazilian Studies at Emory University
Fulbright Chair in Public Health Sciences at University of California, San Diego
Fulbright Chair at the University of Texas M.D. Anderson Cancer Center
Fulbright Chair in Global Health University of New Jersey, Rutgers
Fulbright Chair in Materials Science & Nanoengineering at Rice University
Fulbright Chair in Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at YALE University

Fulbright together with the U.S. partner will award a one-semester grant in the fall term 2023 of the academic year to a faculty member from a higher education institution in Brazil. The grantee will receive a maintenance stipend and funds to cover airfare and housing for one academic term to support research and teaching activities.

An instruction package for each Chair is available at www.fulbright.org.br. Applications must be submitted in the online system until the respective deadline.

It is a unique opportunity to participate in the U.S. flagship educational exchange program and become a Fulbrighter for life.

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS: ACADEMIC YEAR 2023-2024
PROGRAMS FOR BRAZILIAN CITIZENS
FULBRIGHT CHAIR IN GLOBAL HEALTH AT RUTGERS, THE STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW JERSEY

The Fulbright Chair in Global Health at Rutgers will give one award for a Brazilian scholar to spend one academic semester lecturing and researching in the fall term 2023 (September to December 2023) or spring term 2024 (January to May 2024), following Rutgers' academic year calendar.

The Chair is intended to foster teaching and research in the area of global health, broadly conceived. Candidates for the Chair shall submit a detailed proposal for teaching and research related to global health to be carried out during the fall 2023 semester or the spring 2024 semester. All proposals should also include the titles and brief outlines of two public lectures, which the candidate will deliver while in residence at Rutgers.

Teaching proposals should include a detailed syllabus for a three-hour weekly graduate seminar or advanced undergraduate course on Global Health as conceived within one of the disciplines taught at the Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences (RBHS) division, the Rutgers School of Biological and Environmental Sciences (SEBS), or the Rutgers School of Arts and Sciences (SAS). Research proposals should include a detailed research plan, including timeline, expected resource needs, proposed research site or laboratory, and proposed Rutgers affiliation.

Please note that, with the COVID-19 outbreak, all Fulbright programs are contingent upon local restrictions, border controls, sanitary procedures, and availability of funds. Programs will be implemented only when and if these conditions are met.

ELIGIBILITY

The candidate must be working under a full-time and active contract at a Brazilian higher education institution. English language proficiency compatible with the proposed activities is a requirement. The candidate must hold a Brazilian passport and must have earned a doctoral degree before December 31st, 2014. Candidates that have benefited of J-1 visa in the past must have returned to Brazil before August 1st, 2021, in order to be eligible for the Fulbright Program. Dual Brazilian/U.S. citizens and or candidates hired temporarily or as substitute professors are not eligible and, also, scholars who have already received a Fulbright Chair Award cannot apply to another one.

The candidate must demonstrate outstanding academic qualifications and a record of professional experience along with intellectual production in the proposed area during the last ten years in the Brazilian arena. The candidate must stay in Brazil during the selection and affiliation process, prior to departing to the U.S.; this grant cannot be combined with any other similar grant with the same purpose.

FUNDING

The Program will award funding for one visiting scholar based on a four-month period, as follows:

- US$ 22,000, for maintenance and international round-trip air ticket. The award will be paid by both institutions Fulbright (US$ 12,000) and Rutgers (US$ 10,000). The income paid by the university is subject to tax, determined under tax accounting rules;
- Housing on the Rutgers campus or near campus, as normally provided for international visiting fellows at the institution (up to US$ 1,200 per month);
- Limited health coverage through ASPE – Accident and Sickness Program for Exchanges;
- Visa J-1 fee; and
- Access to the facilities and services of Rutgers, such as office space and internet connection; access to laboratories, libraries, and any other courtesies and amenities normally provided to the academic community to ensure the success of the teaching and research activities undertaken by the scholar.

SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

The candidate must submit the online application form, available at <https://apply.iie.org/fvsp2023> indicating “Chair in Global Health at Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey” in the Country Information, cycle 2023-2024, and include the following documents, all in English:

- Brazilian passport ID pages, if available, or photo ID. If the candidate has already received a J-1 visa, copy of the DS-2019 form and the visa page from the passport;
- Resume (CV), no more than three pages;
- Ph.D. certificate or diploma (original document; translation not required);
- Pay Stub (contracheque - original document; translation not required);
- Research project statement with bibliography;
- Syllabus of the proposed course;
- Title and brief abstract of one or more public lectures to be delivered at Rutgers; and
- Two letters of reference.

SELECTION PROCESS

The Fulbright Commission will review all applications and select the complete ones from eligible candidates. A peer review panel, nominated by the Fulbright Commission, will assess candidates' academic and professional qualifications and the relevance of their proposed courses and research projects. An interview may be required.

The Fulbright Commission will present viable candidates to Rutgers for the university to determine the candidate that best fits the institution's priorities.

The Fulbright Commission will nominate the selected candidate for final approval by the J. William Fulbright Foreign Scholarship Board. Candidates from groups already underrepresented in the program with no significant previous academic experience in the U.S. will be preferred.

TIMELINE

- August 1st, 2022: deadline for online applications submission;
- December 2022: results of the selection process;
- Fall 2023 or spring 2024: activities at Rutgers.
